1. Preamble

After 1994 National assessment and accreditation council (NAAC) has been installing a momentum of quality consciousness amongst higher Education institutions aiming for continuous improvement. There is a need for sustenance assurance and enhancement of culture of education imparted by the colleges as per new guidelines of NEP 2020. Therefore, it has become essential to share knowledge, experience and technology between different institutions of Higher Learning. In the global scenario it has become compulsion to work in collaboration with other stakeholders of higher education for quality education, promotion and sustenance. So there is a need for joint efforts from academicians from different institutes by joining their hands in the area of Teaching, Research, Development and Extension. This will help to increase academic standards and will enhance the academic interaction between institutions through which they can face the new challenges of 21st century and may lead the students to global citizens.
